- establishing general rules on protection of information constituting the Company insider information;
- establishing the procedure of insiders accounting to the Company;
- informing of sanctions, applied for violation of requirements, established by this Regulation.

1.3. The major tasks of this Regulation are to prevent and suppress the cases of insider information unauthorized use for the purpose of settling transactions with the securities of the Company and its Subsidiary Companies.

2. Terms and Definitions

2.1. The terms and definitions used in this Regulation shall be applied in the meaning, in which they are used in the applicable laws of the Russian Federation on joint-stock companies and securities, unless otherwise is provided herein.

2.2. For the purposes of this Regulation the following terms and definitions are used:

Insider information is an accurate and specific information about the Company activities, the Company securities and transactions with those (including the information constituting commercial, official and other legally protected secret), which has not been distributed or made available, and distribution or provision of which may significantly influence the market value of the Company securities and which pertains to the information included in the list of information relating to the insider information;

Insider is a natural person or legal entity which has the right of access to the insider information by virtue of its official or other capacity under the law, other regulatory legal act, the Company Charter, job description or other internal document of the Company, as well as on the basis of a contract with the Company.

The following natural persons or legal entities shall be considered the Company insiders:

- persons who own at least 25 percent of votes in the supreme governing body of the Company, as well as those who due to ownership of shares in the authorized capital of the Company have access to the insider information under federal laws or constituent documents;
- members of the Company Board of Directors;
- members of the committees under the Company Board of Directors;
- a person performing functions of the sole executive body of the Company and (or) its Subsidiary Companies, as well as their deputies and advisers;

- members of the Executive Board of the Company;
- the Chief Accountant of the Company and (or) its Subsidiary Companies, and their deputies;
- the heads of the Company branches and representative offices;
- the heads of the Company organization units;
- other employees of the Company having access to the insider information due to their job duties;
- members of the Company Internal Audit Commission, as well as persons involved by the Internal Audit Commission to conduct audits, who have access to the insider information due to their functions;
- the Company Registrar, including its employees and persons rendering services to the Registrar under a civil contract, who have the right of access to the insider information due to their functions;
- the Company Auditor, including its employees and persons rendering services to the Auditor under a civil contract, which have the right of access to the insider information due to their functions;
- the Company Appraiser, including its workers and persons rendering services to the Appraiser under a civil contract, which have the right of access to the insider information due to their functions;
- the Company consultants;
- other natural persons and legal entities having the right of access to the insider information.

Insider securities are securities of the Company as well as of its Subsidiary Companies with regard to which the Insider holds the insider information;

Persons holding the insider information are persons who actually hold the insider information (both legally and illegally);

Lawful use of the insider information is the use of insider information in the interests of the Company with a view to ensuring production and economic, financial and other kinds of activities of the Company in accordance with the applicable laws of the Russian Federation, subordinate regulatory legal acts, the Company Charter, as well as job descriptions or other internal documents of the Company adopted in accordance therewith (regulations, procedures, orders, instructions and other internal documents of the Company), as well as under a contract with the Company;

Unauthorized use of the insider information is any kind of use of the insider information, carried out in violation of the conditions stipulated under clause “lawful use of insider information” of this article, inter alia use of the insider information in the private interests of persons holding the insider information and third parties, including (but not limited to):

- effecting transactions with insider securities in violation of the order provided for by this Regulation;
- giving recommendations to third parties about acquisition, sale and conservation of the insider securities;
- anywise transfer of the insider information (or information based on it, including conclusions and predictions about the cost of insider securities) to third parties in return for compensation or gratuitously;
- publication or distribution of the insider information in other way.

2.3. Control over use of the insider information shall be carried out by a separate organization unit of the Company or a Company official (hereinafter referred to as the Authorized Unit) accountable to the Company Board of Directors, which responsibilities include control over compliance with the requirements of this Regulation.

3. Information relating to insider information

3.1. Insider information is the information that simultaneously matches the following criteria:

- the information is not publicly available (unknown to third parties);

- the information in case of its disclosure could influence the market value of the Company and its Subsidiary Companies securities.
- 3.2. The information shall be considered public if it is widely (openly) distributed in a way, which makes it available to any interested party. Spreading of rumors, even if those are true and are reproduced in the mass media, is not an actual public dissemination.
- In particular, the following information shall be considered public:
- information disclosed in accordance with the applicable laws of the Russian Federation on securities market;
 - information posted on the official website of the Company;
 - information disclosed by the Company representatives at the public press conferences;
 - information published with the Company consent in the mass media.
- 3.3. The list of insider information shall be determined in accordance with the laws of the Russian Federation and shall be approved by the Company Board of Directors and shall be the integral part of the present Regulation (Appendix 1).
- 3.4. In addition to the information indicated in clause 3.3 hereof, other information may as well pertain to insider information, which distribution and provision according to the Company may significantly influence the price of issuance securities qualified for trading at the securities market trade organizer, or in which respect an application was filed about their admission for trading at the securities market trade organizer.
- 3.5. The information specified in clause 3.4 shall be approved by the Company Board of Directors and published on the official website of the Company.
- 3.6. The information, containing assessment of the securities value and (or) the assessment of financial, and property status of the Company and the Subsidiary Companies conducted on the basis of publicly available information shall not be related to the insider information of the Company and the Subsidiary Companies.

4. Insiders list keeping and transfer

- 4.1. The Company shall compile and regularly update the List of persons having access to the insider information of the Company (hereinafter referred to as the List of Insiders), regardless of whether such a person has the right of access to information on a regular or temporary basis.
- 4.2. The Authorized Unit shall be responsible for keeping and updating (changing) the List of Insiders.
- 4.3. In order to comply with the legislative requirements the Company List of Insiders shall contain the following information:
- 4.3.1. Surname, first name, patronymic, series and number of the basic identity document, information on the date of issue of the indicated document and the body that issued it – for natural persons included in the Company List of Insiders.

6.5. The insiders shall be obliged to notify the Company, as well as the federal executive body for securities market of the transactions with the Company securities effected by them, as well as with securities of its Subsidiary Companies within 10 (ten) working days as from the date of their performance of the corresponding transaction according to the form as per Appendix 2 to this Regulation.

6.6. The responsibilities specified in clause 6.5 of this Regulation shall apply to any transactions with the Company securities (its Subsidiary Company securities), of which the insider is a party, a beneficiary, an intermediary or a representative, including cases, when the Company and (or) its Subsidiary Companies securities are transferred by and (or) to them into trust management (excluding the cases when the insiders own investment shares of unit investment funds, which assets include the Company and (or) its Subsidiary Company securities).

6.7. The information received pursuant to clauses 6.5 and 6.6 hereof is subject to analysis by the Authorized Unit for the purposes of detecting the possible evidence of insiders information use at making declared transactions as well as for the purpose of transactions conclusion by insiders, which had not been declared by them. The Authorized Unit forwards the information received for consideration of the Company Board of Directors in order to take measures on prevention of the insider information use or violation of the shareholders and investors' rights.

6.8. The Authorized Unit shall provide reports on insiders' transactions with securities of the Company and Subsidiary Companies to the Company General Director and the Board of Directors.

7. Disclosure of the insider information

7.1. The Company shall disclose the insider information in the cases, amount, procedure and terms stipulated by the regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation, the Company Charter, and the Regulation on Information Policy of the Company, as well as internal documents of the Company.

7.2. Unauthorized disclosure of the insider information by insiders as well as by other persons shall not relieve the Company from obligation on its disclosure in the cases stipulated by the applicable laws of the Russian Federation and (or) internal documents of the Company and does not abolish the restrictions on its use prior to official disclosure of such information by the Company established by this Regulation.

7.3. Employees of the Company responsible for interaction with the public and shareholders shall provide equal opportunity to all interested parties for the simultaneous access to the essential information disclosed about the Company activities, as well as take measures for immediate refutation of unreliable information, which is claimed to be the insider one.

8. Requirements ensuring compliance with confidentiality regarding the insider information

8.1. The Company General Director, members of the Board of Directors and members of the Internal Audit Commission shall have the right of access to any piece of the insider information.

Other insiders shall have the right of access to the insider information necessary to them for performance of their duties, directly provided for by the applicable laws of the Russian Federation, other regulatory legal acts, the Company Charter, labor or civil contracts with the Company, job descriptions and internal documents of the Company.

8.2. The Company, members of the Company Executive and Control Bodies within their authorities, officials and employees of the Company shall be obliged to take all reasonable measures to protect and prevent the insider information from unauthorized use and distribution.

8.3. Insiders shall have no right to transfer the insider information available to them to other persons, except as expressly provided by the applicable laws of the Russian Federation, other regulatory legal acts, the Company Charter, internal documents of the Company, job descriptions or contracts with the Company.

Insiders shall have no right to use the insider information for purposes not related to their professional activities at the Company and (or) for purposes not provided for by the terms of agreements concluded with the Company.

8.4. At the conclusion of labor or civil contracts, providing for the right of access to the insider information under agreement for the Company's contracting party, such a contract shall include a term of non-disclosure and prohibition of the unauthorized use of the insider information, provision of the list of persons who will get access to the insider information due to the contract execution, as well as confirmation of the fact that the indicated persons have assumed obligations on non-dissemination of the insider information, of prohibition to make transactions with its use, as well as the liability to declare transactions made by insiders in accordance with the requirements of this Regulation.

8.5. Liabilities of insiders provided for by this Regulation shall be valid for at least 6 (six) months upon elimination of the ground, subject to which the person is considered to be an insider, if not longer provided by the contract between the insider and the Company, or internal documents of the Company.

8.6. The Company Board of Directors shall exercise supervisory control over the system of monitoring use of the insider information and observance of the requirements of this Regulation.

8.7. The information provided by insiders, and reports of the Authorized Unit prepared in accordance with the requirements of this Regulation, as well as Lists of Insiders shall be confidential. The Company officials, as well as the members of the Company Board of Directors shall be liable for illegal use and distribution of this information in accordance with the applicable laws of the Russian Federation.
